The Power of Quiet Leadership

John Lucero - edhslucero@gmail.com

Leadership Personality: Act Low Key, Keep Private Matters Private, Embrace Solitude, Writing over Talking, Think First, Share Later, Focus on a Deep Answer

Culture of Character vs. Culture of Personality

Harvard Model of the Leadership: Quick Decisions Are Valued, Focus on Teams, Ideas Are Shared Verbally, Charismatic Extroverted Leader, Direct and Bold Sharing of Ideas, Open Personalities

Decision Making and Reactivity to External Stimuli: Highly Reactive (30% process) vs. Low Reactive (5%)

Ascending Reticular Activity System: Arousing vs. Calming (Flow – Optimal state for engagement in activity)

Value of Introverted/ Extroverted varies by Culture: 1) Class participation vs. Talking Nonsense; 2) Quiet, sensitive vs. Funny, active playmate; 3)Individualism (Boldness, Verbal Skills) vs. Group Cohesion (Quiet, humility, sensitivity)

Helpful Hints for the Silent Leader

Become visible early in the discussion because silence leaves a negative impression.

Become an expert on the subject.

Use social media, if appropriate, to become more visible with focused content

Display characteristics of extrovert for specific purpose (Free Trait Theory- Fixed vs. Free)

Restorative Niche - Schedule quiet time to recharge

Use quiet time to reflect on the oneself and others and possible interactions

For verbal sharing of ideas, pre-list talking points

Deliberate Practice – Identify task that needs upgrading, monitor and revise

Practice by interviewing yourself

Present the value of your solution

Develop alternative plans

Tell and give Directions

Work through conflict
Individually provide support
Individually help find solutions
Be authentic
Quick Decisions Are Valued
Help set the ground rules
Offer to prepare the agenda
Identify the need for a pause to the process
Clarify your position
Identify your audience for purpose of motivation
Prepare logical, supported succinct presentation
Pay attention to detail
Avoid non-productive brainstorming: negatives - Social Loafing, Production Blocking, Evaluation Apprehension
Avoid non-productive brainstorming: negatives - Social Loafing, Production Blocking, Evaluation Apprehension Rehearse Your Voice
Rehearse Your Voice
Rehearse Your Voice Focus on Teams
Rehearse Your Voice Focus on Teams Prepare questions in advance
Rehearse Your Voice Focus on Teams Prepare questions in advance Paraphrase ideas and identify others' points-of-view
Rehearse Your Voice Focus on Teams Prepare questions in advance Paraphrase ideas and identify others' points-of-view Gain credibility by listening privately
Rehearse Your Voice Focus on Teams Prepare questions in advance Paraphrase ideas and identify others' points-of-view Gain credibility by listening privately Privately identify process to create
Rehearse Your Voice Focus on Teams Prepare questions in advance Paraphrase ideas and identify others' points-of-view Gain credibility by listening privately Privately identify process to create Share the limelight
Rehearse Your Voice Focus on Teams Prepare questions in advance Paraphrase ideas and identify others' points-of-view Gain credibility by listening privately Privately identify process to create Share the limelight Keep private matters private