

Fantasy Tower Upper Level presentations:

Matt & Celini McKenny: “Awesome Balloon Decorations With or Without Helium”
Learn how to make Fun Balloon Décor with or without helium through our virtual balloon training demonstrations. Discover tips and tricks for easy and efficient ways to decorate your next pep rally, dance or other school activity!

Dylan Gadeke: “CASL Spirit Jamboree”
Together in this deconstructed version of a rally, we will discover innovative new games and activities to provide engaging opportunities to take back to our campuses for rallies. Lunch-time Activities and more!

Geoff McLachlan: “Making Magic, a Guide to Successful Events”
This highly interactive session will get your team to work toward a winning event. Plan, prepare, execute and succeed!

Johan Khalilian: “Crazy Ones”
Throughout history, there have been larger than life figures that have shaped the fields of technology, art, literature, design, medicine, social justice...you name it! You ight not think you have the courage of Nelson Mandela, the tenacity of Amelia Earhart, or the ingenuity of Elo Musk – but today and every day you can choose the crazy idea that you have everything it takes to change the world. You just have to believe.

Issac Butts: “Take Back Your Value”
72% of all high school students are affected by long term effects of bullying. This power packed presentation will give all in attendance the mind set and tools it takes to Take Back Their Value despite the opposition. It is time to reverse this epidemic and Take Back Your Value!

Ken Nedler: “You Get What You Ask For”
How to ask the right questions when interviewing for new members and how to tell if they are a fit for your organization.

Fantasy Tower Lower Level presentations:

Briana Walker: “Something to Believe In”
A dancer turned paraplegic was determined to not let this accident take away the lifetime of happy endings she envisioned. With fiery determination, an ever-positive attitude, a wicked sense of humor; Briana Walker share her contagious rebellion and inspiring courage while teaching the principle...no matter what life throws at you, choose to dance anyway!

Dinah Greene/Jennifer Pfeffer: “Student Slam”

Fantasy Tower Lobby Level presentations:

Advisor Sessions:

Area F Council Slam (session 2)

Joe Beckman: “Caveman Club” (session 3)

Human Connection MATTERS! Equips participants with easy-to-implement tools that maximize human connection, boost personal happiness, and optimize student impact.

Danny Vuong-Batimana: “Who am I?”

Finding your IDENTITY with the Happiness is Now Experience. When life, school and home life get tough...sometimes, you just have to dance it out and have fun! Happiness was not yesterday, nor tomorrow, happiness is NOW!

Joe Beckman:

(keynote) “3 Phrases” Focusing on basic human needs. Joe challenges us to reclaim human connection. Anchor points are universal phrases that help navigate the challenges of being a teen in a world lacking social connection.

(session 2 for students) “I stand for This!”

Student leaders are guided to think critically about the values that help shape everyday choices, as well as unpacking how those values can be lived out in real life!

(session 3 for advisors) “Caveman Club” Human Connection MATTERS! Equips participants with easy-to-implement tools that maximize human connection, boost personal happiness, and optimize student impact.

Adventure Tower Lobby Level presentations:

Alisia Amaya: “Incredibly OFFENDED”

Being offended is a normal thing now. How do you handle it?

Annie Page: “Interview Secrets: The Basics”

Best practices to nail every interview for high school leadership positions, college, new jobs and everything in between!

Irene Kim, Southern Director CASL: “Metamorphosis”

As leaders, we often struggle to comprehend the power in personal growth. Together we will identify the gravity of resilience and how we continue to grow and shape ourselves into individuals with great grit – whether we are learning through success or just as insightful, failure.

Lauren Nagel, Media Director CASL: “heART of Leadership”

Let’s go back to the drawing board! Experience a step-by-step drawing tutorial that walks you through the steps of becoming a more passionate leader. This workshop is a hands-on approach to broadening our how to put the heart in leadership!

Frontier Tower Lobby Level presentations:

Ruben Martinez and Michelle Krug: “Mascot 101”

Here’s a unique opportunity to hear from a professional mascot, who will go over basic “Mascot 101”. What is a mascot, suit care, training, the value of a handler and the financial aspect of getting your mascot to the next level.

Lauren Kasse, Southern Director CASL: Passè and Posters

What are the similarities between publicity and dance? A lot more than you think! Both are mediums for an artist and leader to communicate with their audience. Together we will dance through series of innovative methods to effectively publicize our events.

Andres Torres, Southern Director CASL : “All the Pieces to the Puzzle”

Leadership is not a one person job! Several pieces are required to create a bigger picture in a puzzle; but not all pieces are the same shape or size. In this workshop, we will learn the importance of team building and collaboration whilst learning how they contribute to a team effort.