Join us in July!

CADA/CASL Leadership Camps have been bringing student leaders together each summer since 1984 to network, train, and develop foundational skills to kick off the new school year. There is no greater opportunity to grow as a student leader than to meet and collaborate with other student leaders from outside their own school. While we are unable to gather together in person, this year more than ever, we need to bring together like-minded individuals to develop plans to positively impact a very different school climate that is predicted for the fall. Our school cultures are in need of strong student leadership to take charge and help their peers feel connected and valued.

We encourage school advisors to select up to 10 of their key student leaders to join us for the premium training this summer, which will include a focus on how to train the rest of their student leadership team and breakouts to focus on positional responsibilities and what it means to be a student leader. They will also have the opportunity to brainstorm, plan, and implement a council project which could serve as a model for running a similar program/event on your campus this year.

Our standard training would be an ideal opportunity for the remainder of your student leadership team to view keynotes, leadership lessons, workshops, and a chance to view the council projects worked on by their peers.

As we navigate through this unusual time in our history, CADA/CASL is committed to our mission to promote and support leadership development through student activities. We love the CADA/CASL family feeling that has been created over the years through our state conferences, camps, area conferences, and leadership development days. We will continue to offer virtual opportunities to our member schools to develop their leadership skills until that time we can join together again, in person, to celebrate what it means to be a leader in our schools, community, and the world.

Stay safe and healthy and see you...virtually...in July!

Premium Training

This extended training is recommended for up to 10 of your key student leaders for the 2020-21 school year. These students will have an opportunity to brainstorm and network with other students from around the state to take classic camp events and convert them to a virtual format, which will help model what can be accomplished on school campuses with an altered social distancing format in place when we return to campus in the fall, yet still contain the elements of project planning that are universal for when we return to a more "normal" schedule. In addition to the afternoon programming from the "Standard Training", students enrolled in this program will have a full slate of morning programming as well.

Sample Schedule
