

Creating Weekly Leadership Lessons

Mary Jane (MJ) Smith, Etiwanda High School
marvjane.smith@ciuhsd.net

Leadership Books

- Create Leadership Lessons
- Each council/team is assigned one chapter to teach to the class; it must include some type of group interaction and a handout/slideshow
- Books to use:
 - FISH!
 - How Full Is Your Bucket?
 - 7 Habits of Highly Effective Teens
 - Teen Truth
 - The Fred Factor
 - Whale Done - Ken Blanchard books
 - Now, Discover Your Strengths - Donald Clifton
 - Who Moved My Cheese?
 - The 17 Essential Qualities of a Team Player - John C Maxwell Books
- You can use these books throughout the semester and include it in part of your final

"The more you read
the more things you know.
The more that you learn the more places you'll go."
-Dr. Seuss

Leadership Questions

- Keep a daily journal
- Different leadership questions each day (ex. How have you shown kindness this past week? Who do you consider your hero?)
- Share responses

Leadership Words

- Have students create words (ex. Honest, Initiative, Servant)
- One word each week (assign words to students for the year)
- Student lead lesson: definition, what it means to me, story/poem/song printed, must have something printed to share

Leadership Movie Clips

- Leadership in the Movies (movie clips). Lessons and questions on the dvd

Oh! The Places You'll Go!
-Dr. Seuss

Leadership Book for ME

- Strengths Finder
- Good To Great
- The Tipping Point
- Generation iY
- The Five Dysfunctions of a Team