What if a complete event management system

was deeply integrated with your school's other digital services,

SO

student participation in your events got stored as part of each student's personal history?

What if a complete event management system

was deeply integrated with your school's other digital services,

student participation in your events got stored as part of each student's personal history? Unified ground truth

- What if the student's everyday ID becomes
  - a marketing platform
  - an eCommerce terminal, and
  - a scanning device?

What if the student's everyday ID becomes

- a marketing platform
- an eCommerce terminal
- a scanning devic

Everyday tools for members of a group. There isn't a word for this yet.

The unified tools you use every day to be a student, a teacher, a guardian

- What if the student's everyday ID becomes
  - a marketing platform
  - an eCommerce terminal, and
  - a scanning device?

We'll consider how this

- streamlines marketing
- enhances event security, and
- helps find students who are not engaging socially.

EVERYDAY ID

- 1. Not "a picture of a student card on a phone"
- 2. Obvious advantages of digital
  - 1. People don't forget phones
  - 2. "live" ID stops working for suspended students
- 3. Deeper insight
  - 1. NSPL tap to call
  - 2. "27-sided student card"
  - 3. ASB Membership
  - 4. Used daily = marketing platform

What does it look like to users?
